THE TIMES.
A. D. CLEMENT Editor
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19, 1906.

OUR THANKS.

The TIMES greets its readers for the tenth time with Christmas cheer and good wishes. During the ten years of its present management it has endeavored to give to the people of its field a paper fairly and accurately describing the news events. That we have made many mistakes there is no doubt, but they have not been of the heart. We have not distorted the facts or colored reports to suit our views or those of any man. We print the news as it is. We express our views candidly upon any subject that may be of interest to our readers; we realize that we often differ with even our best friends. This we expect, and recognize the right of difference of opinion. We do our own thinking and accord this privilege to every other citizen. Our able assistants—correspondents, keep the paper fresh with local news and they understand and know how to give the news in a free and independent way. Our circulation is much larger now than ever before and just now we are enjoying a boom in the subscription department.

We shall use our best efforts to make the paper even better for 1907.

We thank you kind reader for your patience, indulgence and very liberal support for 1906, and wish for you the joys of the happy Christmas time, and continued prosperity in your home.

We will issue no paper on the 26th. Our employees will take a rest, but we will greet you again with renewed effort on January 2nd 1907.

And now is the time to subscribe and see your neighbor about the same thing.

The pope has flung a fore hand into French affairs and the Lord only knows what the result will be. "Peace on Earth and good will among men" was the glad song of Angels when the "Prince of Peace" was born, and though the church is founded on that rock how often has it preferred war to peace, the sword to the sceptre of love. Mercy "Lord and Lord" and not to "do the will of the Father" is hollow mockery.

We had to go to our scrap-book for December to learn that our brother, of the Culpeper Enterprise made this announcement: A turkey gobbler on the Alsop farm, near Yanmuna, has been setting on a nest in which there are six apples for the last week.

Secty. Root is the mouth piece of the President and he pleads for more of centralized power on the part of the general government and a wiping out of State authority. Whither are we drifting? "The Lord reigns, let the earth rejoice."

H. H. Rogers says that nine out of ten successful men have married early in life. Young man get married, have a wife and "get the hustle on."

Congressmen are afraid to increase their salaries. Better be. Most of them are already overpaid and many of them are not worth their mileage, which is finished them by the railroads.

The book investigation has developed no sensations as yet. The outcome may be of practical value but of this we are not so sure.

President Roosevelt has called another man a "liar" and the accused says "it isn't so". It is a bad habit the President has fallen into

So the Pennsylvania plutocrats didn't gobble up our railroad after all. Thanks to Governor Swanson and this associates for the good work done by them.

Education is "the bone of contention" in England and religion in France. Strange that such subjects should cause strife rather than make for "peace and good will."

This is the day of investigations certificates and labels. Let us hope that it means better public service, and purer food.

Our boys are coming home for Christmas—THE TIMES extends a cordial welcome and wishes them a pleasant holiday.

It was Napoleon who said, when a man is bent on public office he has already sold himself.

Have you read our clubbing offer?

We notice from our Buckingham correspondent that the Board of Supervisors of that County is considering the advisability of making an appropriation for a proper exhibit of the county's resources at the Jamestown Exposition. This meeting will be held on the 27th, and we hope the board will make an adequate appropriation, not less than $500.00 for the purpose. The County is rich in natural resources and her history would be good reading. Let the Board place the work in the hands of good men and we suggest that Hon. Camm Patteson, Prof. W. P. Ellis and Col. Robt. T. Hubbard be enlisted in the work.

Dr. McCulloch, of Buckingham, who amputated his own arm has the elements in his make up of the genuine hero. Pity that such a man should be maimed, and yet we somehow feel that with one hand he will still do the work of two men.

Eggs at 30 cents a dozen, and what's to become of the editor who still gets only one dollar a year for his paper or two cents a week? If you chance to owe that dollar kindly send it in and so help to relieve conditions.

The forecast is that Congress will do nothing this session but appropriate; and let us hope as it is the people's money it will be for people's good.

Wm. Ruffian, who is charged with the murder of Mr. John Grebb at Tuggles last June has been captured in N. C. and the reward of $400 is claimed by his captor.

Jeff Davis hasn't as yet been aligned for carrying concealed weapons and yet we are told that he is going to terrify the Senate.

And now the banks are begging for money from the government. We thought they had it all, the "whole thing."

Somebody has either forgotten the facts or misstated them and like Mr. Roosevelt "tis the other fellow."

When to go home.

From the Bluffton, Ind., Banner
When tired out, go home. When you want coin dating, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others that you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to show yourself at your best, go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal go home and practice on your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extraordinary brilliancy go home and light up the whole household."

To which we would add, when you have a bad cold go home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and a quick cure is certain.

WHY A FARMER SHOULD KEEP A BANK ACCOUNT.

Farmers as a rule do not keep books of accounts. Their accounts therefore, on the ledger of a bank will afford them a complete record of all their important transactions, involving the payment or receipt of money. A cancelled check, when returned by the bank, at the end of the month, constitutes the safest receipt one can have for showing the payment of money. Paying a laborer, a store account, or any other bills, with a check drawn on a bank, is safer than using money; because the person receiving the check must endorse it and the check should be preserved as a receipt.

Money deposited in a bank is not so easily or so often "fooled away" as when carried away in ones pocket. Try the experiment for one year of keeping a bank account and see if it does not pay you.

A large number of the most reliable farmers, in this section, have accounts with us. We are very desirous of having the accounts of farmers on our books an we will be glad to furnish, at any time whatever information we can in regard to the subject of banking.

The persons who open accounts with us we furnish check books free of cost.

Death of a Highly Respected Colored Man.

"An old man, broken with the storms of life, is come to lay his weary bones among ye."

Departed this life to his modest little home near Beckham, Appomattox county, Friday, November 30th., Isaac Woodson, aged about 90 ye rs.

"Uncle" Isaac as he was familiarly known to all the country around, was born a slave to the late Colonel Benjamin P. Walker, of Laurel Hill Farm, and continued to serve his master with unswerving fidelity until the promulgation of President Lincoln's proclamation in the South, freeing the former slaves which paved the way for the subsequent legislative enactment investing them with all the rights of citizenship. The rapid transition from slave to free man with all its baneful effects, not only to the negro himself, but to the whole body of white citizens throughout a section suffering from the horrors of internecine war, produced no change whatever on old Isaac, who continued his trade of blacksmith convert to "labor, and to wait." Honest, truthful, and faithful in the performance of every duty imposed upon him he exemplified in the highest degree the ideal citizen, and transmits to his race an example worthy of emulation. Fast, very fast, indeed, the old Virginia negro with his courteous manners born of an association with "My Master and My Mistress" is passing away, "uncle" Isaac being almost the last remaing link between the past and present in this community. Deeply a religious and always ready to follow in the right path, as God gave him the light to see that path, there has gone from earth to the better land one of the best men this writer ever knew. His skin was black but his heart was as pure and undefiled as the Alpine snow. He rests beneath the kindly sod close by the unpretentious little home he loved so well and where he was always wont to meet and greet his host of friends, and his memory will long abide in a community where he was beloved for his nobility of character and his splendid virtues as man and citizen.—Walker's Ford, Va.

Colonial Virginia.

The story of Colonial days in Virginia is one of the romance tales of the doings of English speaking people. The Times Dispatch in undertaking to print the history of this period serially, as it will Sunday, Dec. 16th, and thereafter for twenty-five Sundays, makes an unusual contribution to knowledge and the enjoyment of the people of Virginia. Every man, woman, boy and girl in Virginia should read the story of our wonderful beginnings. If possible, every child in the public schools of the State should be supplied with the Sunday Times Dispatch while this history is being printed. The feature is such an expensive one that few newspapers would undertake it, but it is in keeping with many things done by this paper for the educational uplift of Virginia.

The Times Dispatch is one of the great newspapers of America. It is an institution of the whole State, and with its Industrial Section holding up to the world the great material opportunities that we have, its constructive power for the development of the State cannot be measured.

The big closing out sale at D. W. Myers is still in progress. You can't afford to miss it. His new fall stock is being opened up daily and is sold at cost. The reason for doing this is Mr. Myers is going to retire from the clothing business and is making prices to move the stock. They will not last long at the prices he is putting on his entire stock The time to buy is now. The place is D. W. Myers, 828 Main S reet, Lynchburg, Va. The reason is prices are at cost below cost. Goods marked in plain figures.
